Dear Robin, #1

It's hard to decide what to say to someone I've only known for 7 years. You're sweet, intelligent, and all-around nice, and you always have been. I have no doubt you'll be a huge success in anything you attempt. It's true, however, that you are irresponsible and didn't exactly kill yourself in History this year.

Love,
Adam #9

Dear Robin,
Were you really Graber's favorite?
I've had fun working and playing with you.
You a sweet girl.
I wish you all the best.
for future success.

Love,
Jeff #18

P.S. If you need any help in college, I'm sure I won't be able to help.

Dear Robin,
Going thru school for 12 yrs. with you has been both an honor and a pleasure. I've acted like a jerk, but that's just to cover up my shyness. You're a great girl. Good luck in whatever you do. You won't need it. Love,
Eric

Dear Robin,
I will keep it short (Ha, Ha)
You are intellectual but you need more emotion.
I know you will be a success. Good luck Good life from

ANGES CHANG

Dearest Robin,

A novel you want, so somewhat of a novel you'll get. A long long time a go-go, in a school not so far away a few blocks exactly, pretty much - it was at Cottmant Courts, there two peoples met kinda meaky in class, and they got along real kinda well as friends. But then a drastic dras happenant upon them, and they were separated unkind.

But to save the day came along the niceness and kindness of this red brick building, and they were reunited in joy so kind.

Rob, a friend you are
And a friend you'll be
Deep in our heart
So happy and free
You let me smile
With clouds above
But just one thing
Stay in touch!

Luck you sure as hell don't need.

Remember
LOVE IS ALL YOU NEED

FIN?
Never. Love, Gary

(short novel, but it says what I want it to say.

PS don't worry!

Dear Robin,

Words cannot express how happy you've made me these past few years. You've just meant everything to me for as long as I can remember. Thank you for all of your great support (I never could have made it without you.) Whenever I'm down, all I have to do is think of you to pick me right back up again - and that's the greatest gift in the world. Thank you for all the wonderful times we've had together - and for all the beautiful dreams and memories you've given me. In short, thank you for just being you. You'll always be very, very special to me. In my life, people may come, and people may go, but no one can ever have the part of me I gave to you. Nobody but you. Be a good girl up at Princeton (try not to break too many hearts), and think about me once in a while. Good luck, of course (but you know my best wishes follow you everywhere you go.) Well, take care of yourself. Remember me. I'll always love you.

Love,
Howard.

As I leave behind the joy... the sorrow,
I And the love I felt yesterday
I envision all the empty pages
yet to be filled
And the dawning of a new day.

Looking back on yesterday
Why do I feel an anguish
In a heart so youthful and new
When I should look toward the future
In a manner sanguine and true.

Many say as caterpillars develop into butterflies
And as spring to summer flows
So I too will mature in my actions and words
As a bud matures into a rose.

But my present thoughts are not of the future
Nor of the unknown in the life that awaits me
But of the loved ones... the cherished memories I must leave behind
And the changes yet to be...

It's not time to make a change
Just relax and take it easy.
You're still young, that's your fault
There's so much you have to know
Take your time, think a lot
Think of everything you've got
For you may still be here tomorrow
But your dreams may not.

There are places I'll remember
All my life,
though some have changed
Some forever, not for better
Some have gone,
and some remain.
All these places have their moments
With lovers and friends,
I still can recall.
In my life,
I've loved them all.
Though I'll know I'll never lose affection
For people and things,
that went before
I know I'll often stop and think about them.
In my life,
I've loved them all.

And the time was running wild
Everytime I thought I got it made

Change, to face the strain
There's gonna have to be a different man.
Time may change me

But still the days seem the same.

Pretty soon, you're gonna get old.

JUNIOR PROM

"Precious and Few" indeed are experiences as wonderful as those we shared at the Junior Prom. On that special night, the fifteenth of May, our friends suddenly became sophisticated ladies and gentlemen; the Main Ballroom of the Hilton Inn, Northeast was aglow with soft candles; the atmosphere was one of ambiance.

Our premier social occasion was the culmination of many months of hard work and cooperation. Although many problems were encountered, the prom committees managed to make the evening a total success. As the evening drew to a close, as we said our final goodbyes, we longed to capture and save forever that special evening — for memories so cherished are "Precious and Few."

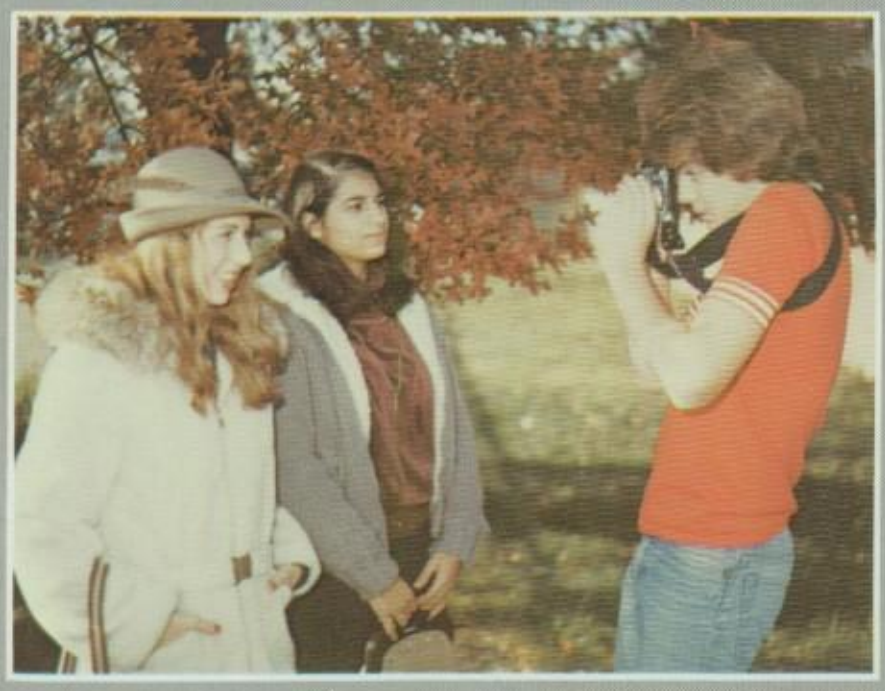
KODAK SAFETY FILM 5075
KODAK SAFETY FILM 50



The field is quiet now
And the seats lay tranquil
Engulfed in the silence of forgotten days
When it was a part of everyone who entered

There was a time — oh, what a time!
When there were screams, and yells, and shouts
Days of triumph and victory
And of defeat and despair
It has witnessed it all
The grueling hours of practice and labor
Of exercise and the push to the limit of ability
In the pursuit of excellence
Worthy of the ground and it's name.

Through everything, the young men stood tall
And could say "We're proud" — and know it
The freezing winds whipped at the gates
And the sun baked the field
The rain swarmed down upon the green grass
And the bitter cold winds were battled only
By the thoughts of Thanksgiving
And the pride of the men on the field.

Yes, it is peaceful here now and the emptiness pervades the air
But there will soon come a time
When it will come alive again
And surround the courage and determination
Of the players inside

It rises above the people
Keeping watch
And it would have made Charlie Martin proud

But then again, it already has
For he lives through it every day.

TO THE 140TH CLASS

PRINCIPAL

Your graduation from Northeast High School coincides with your school's 90th birthday. For almost one hundred years your school has provided the best of educational opportunities to more than 70,000 young men and women.

During this period of tremendous change, unmatched in the entire previous history of the world, your school — because of its dedicated, capable teachers and administrators — and its fine student body — has continued to adhere to its traditional standards of achievement and behavior. Northeast has produced so many thousands of outstanding men and women who bear the distinction of being good citizens in our community. In addition, your school has provided many who have made important contributions to our society.

It has been our responsibility to guide and instruct you as effectively as possible so that you might achieve to the fullest degree both vocational competence and the best qualities of citizenship in a democratic society. You are the best judge of the extent you took advantage of these opportunities. Certainly time will confirm or deny your judgement and the degree of our success.

We urge that you never separate yourself from your school. Since you will now be an alumnus or an alumna of Northeast High School, you will ever carry the distinguished title of "Northeaster".

As you leave you take with you our sincerest best wishes for great achievement, vocational success, real happiness and the satisfaction of being a contributor to the well-being of our society.

Cordially,

TO THE CLASS OF 1981

The Chairman of The Board of The Columbia Broadcasting System, William S. Paley, once told the Personnel Division of CBS to "Seek out men and women of the highest character and integrity over and beyond competence or superior ability."

This directive by Chairman Paley to stress character over knowledge points out that astute business people wish to surround themselves with people who are dependable and trustworthy.

You have been developing your character for years. Many people have assisted you both within and without the school. If your character would fit the mold suggested by Mr. Paley, be proud and let nothing besmirch your reputation. If your character does not quite fit this mold, remember that it is never too late to change.

Good luck as you complete your formative years at Northeast

MESSAGE TO THE MEMBERS OF CLASS 140

Birth, entering school, graduation are some of the major indicators of changes that have taken place in your life. While you were undergoing the changes associated with growth, society has been experiencing change at a very rapid rate. I hope your education has prepared you to accept change and to embrace those changes that are good for society. I also hope your education has prepared you to defend those things that should not be changed, namely the ideals of the right to life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness.

Good luck and best wishes as you go out to live with the changes and to make the changes that will shape your world.

Francis J. Hoban

Business

Change, which inevitably occurs in life and nature, could provide very positive and reassuring experiences or might cause unhappy, frightening, or upsetting incidents in our lives. I think the lesson we all learn, sooner or later, is that we must expect, welcome and be prepared for change if we are to be the "masters of our fate, the captains of our soul."

We might say that each individual must capture the essence of those factors, skills, and knowledges that will prepare for constructive flexibility in our lives. The most traditional ways toward these ends are continuing education, nourishment of personal relationships, and development of character, positive self-image, and a desire to succeed in our conscious goals. Good Luck!

English

"Change" may mean adapt, alter, move, differentiate, convert, replace. Vocabulary has endless variations, depending upon the contextual use of the word. The word "change" frightens many people who like the safety of the comfortable rut into which they have burrowed. Change should not alarm you. Be prepared for the wonderful opportunities for improvements which your future years hold. Be enthusiastic about the growth and development which your career promises. Be strong in your determination to mature in your relationships with others. Today is a good day to look at your baby pictures and reflect on the changes that have happened to you — and that you have made happen — since birth. Tomorrow is a good day to plan for additional, worthwhile changes.

As the day of graduation draws near, we take the opportunity to reflect upon the last three years at Northeast High School. Friends have been made, skills and knowledge have been gained., and hopefully these years have been happy ones for you.

The decade of the 1980's will be one of rapid changes in technology that will affect every phase of society. Opportunities will be plentiful for engineers and scientists. The field of computer technology will expand at unprecedented rates. All of this will create jobs that do not exist today. You are encouraged to continue your education, especially in the area of mathematics. A good background and understanding of mathematics is your ticket of entrance into many of the exciting new fields under rapid development.

As time moves on, it is hoped that you will look back and cherish your high school years by recalling many happy memories of your days at Northeast High School. Good luck.

Man has nothing but a past. The future doesn't exist, the present is so fleeting that it soon becomes the past. So when a student asks "why do we have to study history?" I reply, only in jest, "what else is there?"

Of course we can study music, science and language, for example but these subjects are what they are, because of their unique past, and to study that past is a legitimate function of history.

To paraphrase what a famous historian has written, "We need the study of history for the truth of what the world has made of us, and of what we have helped make of the world."

Science grew from a meager start when it recorded changes. The mathematics of change, calculus, became the tool of science in the quest for an understanding of changes. From the chemical transformations, modern chemistry arose. From changes in form and position, modern physics grew. And from the changes in the structure and function of living things, modern biology evolved. Your mentors stood by patiently as you came through the painful struggle with changes in body and mind, joyful and exhilarated by all the discoveries of change.

May all those changes that will come about in your future be less of torment, and more of delight.

Boys' X-Country

The boy's cross-country team had their finest season, this year ending with a winning record of 25 wins and 8 losses. Long, hard miles of training, supervised by coaches Bob Thomas and James Young, are what led this team to victory. Senior Bob Pessel aided the success of the team finished 5th out of 160 runners in the championship meet, looking toward a successful track career in college. Although three year team members Gary Maisus and Mike Manusov and two year members Jim Brown, Dean Knesbach, Chet Nastala and Glenn Yaffe will be graduating the outstanding junior and sophomore members will undoubtedly continue to improve Northeast's cross-country reputation.

This year the girls cross-country team had an excellent season with outstanding record of fourteen wins and eleven losses. Considering that this is only the second season in which Cross Country has been in existence they performed respectably.

Mr. James Young was extremely pleased with the fact that they placed fifth out of fifteen teams in the Cross Country Championships and that three team members made the All Star Public League Team. Christine Zador was the only participating senior on the team. She was a very supportive member whose enthusiasm and attitude greatly contributed to this years success. Mr. Young sincerely hopes that this young team will fulfill its potential in the next several years.

This year the soccer team had a tremendous season despite a mediocre beginning. After starting with a record of 0-2-2 they pulled themselves up by their bootstraps, advancing to the quarter finals. They unfortunately lost a disappointing game to Bartram 1-0, but nevertheless finished with a successful record of 5-2-3. Much of their success if attributed to their coach Mr. Mayall.

Outstanding defensive halfback, Yuri Fokin was selected 1st team All-Public. Rick Fratz, goalie, was selected 2nd team All-Public, while Captain Glenn Hoesle received an honorable mention. Managing the team this year were Terry Fell, Meryl Newman and Penny Mayurok. The seniors on the team include goalies Rick Fratz, Vic Wolowec, and Thomas Onlberto, halfbacks Yuri Fokin, and Serge Sherstyuk. Forwards Glen Hoesle and Alex Danyluk aided fullbacks Rick McKensie, Terry McNamee, and Jack Duff.

Field Hockey Field Hockey Field Hockey

The 1980 field hockey season will be one long remembered as the year of Northeast High School. Coached by Mrs. Shirley Silcox and Miss Katheleen Mullelly, the girls fought their way into the playoffs with an excellent record of eleven wins and one tie. One of the major factors contributing to such a successful season was the powerful forward line consisting of seniors Elaine Daniel, Diane Hatton, Sue Paloge, Sandy Pelbano, Peggy Roger, Theresa Meehan, and Elaine Wilson. In addition, the dependable backfield consistently shattered the opposition's chances of scoring goals. The seniors who made up Northeast's defense were team captain Patty Freeman, Andrea Simpson, Nancy Starke, Pamela Thomas, Linda Silverman, Barbara Soltis, and goalie Lillian Thomas.

After two heartbreaking losses at the opening of the season, first to Lincoln and then to Frankford, the Northeast Vikings crushed six opponents in a row. The team allowed only one touchdown in its 1st twenty quarters, and its shut-out victory over Central kept the traditional "wooden horse" where it rightly belongs. Touchdowns were scored in the Thanksgiving Day Classic by Lee Robledo and Salathiel Neely.

The Viking defense was led by All-Public senior John Bucher, Otilio "Lee" Robledo, Mike Drayton, Salathiel Neely, Bill Vorse, and a host of other Northeast tacklers and playmakers.

On offense Bucher, who in one four-game stretch threw for ten touchdowns, led a potent attack that included All-Public guard Jim Zahner, Phil Williams, Greg Shannon, Bill Henderson, Joe Collins, Lee Robledo, and Mike Drayton.

"We had alot of talent on this year's squad, but we peaked about a week too late. Our statistics show along with our intensity that we could, and did, hold our own with the best teams in the city. I'm really proud of those guys, and the rest of the school should be, to," said Coach Bill Bernardo.

Volleyball Volleyball Volleyball Volleyball

Mr. Joseph Cush coached this year's volleyball team with co-captains Linda Bronner and Robin McNeil. Cush's Cuties had a record of three wins and ten losses, and were not actually pleased with it; however, the teamwork that was built in this season of playing will make a noted effect on next year's performance. Next year's season should prove to be a triumphant one, thanks to this year's team.

Linda Bronner, a very steady player for the team, helped greatly with the team's victories. She actively supported her team. Robin McNeil, who transferred during the middle of the playing season to Gratz High School, was a very effective player. The loss of her was felt very much by the team members and the coach as she was considered the best all around player. All of the members should be proud of the effort that was put into this season.

Swimming Swimming Swimming Swimming

The Northeast swimming team of 1980-81 concluded a respectable season plagued by injuires and misfortunes. Despite these setbacks there were many fine performances turned in during the course of the season by many individuals. Led by captain Eric Shipon and co-captain Dean Knesbach, the Viking swimmers held their own in all meets. The durable Adam Dickstein, along with Paul Lerke, Vic Wolowec, Carleen Weston, Ross Eilberg, and a host of others proceeded to fare quite well in the Individual Public League Championships. The team was very dedicated despite the fact that virtually all of the swimmers' competitive experience had been limited to their high school careers.

Coach Ted Vogel said, "This year's team possessed drive, enthusiasm, and dedication. It was a pleasure coaching them; they've got character."

The diving team was led by sophomore Joe Anne Zahner and Senior, captain Mark Cherwony.

Girls Gymnastics Girls Gymnastics

This year the Girls Gymnastics team re-established its stature as one of the leading teams in the city. Coached by Mr. Robert Thomas the girls practiced long and hard striving for a place in the city championships. Although they didn't win the spot they developed expertise in required areas of competition; parallel bars, vault, balance beam, and floor exercise.

The team has always proved to be a real challenge to all opponents and exibits enthusiastic spirit and outstanding sportsmanship, key factors in successful competition.

Strength and agility are as important as dedication to champion gymnasts. This year the members of the gym team devoted many hours of practice improving their strength and style under the direction of coach T. Lewis Moore. Each day after school the members of the team could be seen working out in the gym preparing for their meets.

Although the team failed to make the championship their spirit of competition was highly commendable. Seniors, Eric Cantor and Michael Lampkin and the junior and sophomore members should be congratulated on their fine showing amongst Philadelphia's top gymnastic teams.

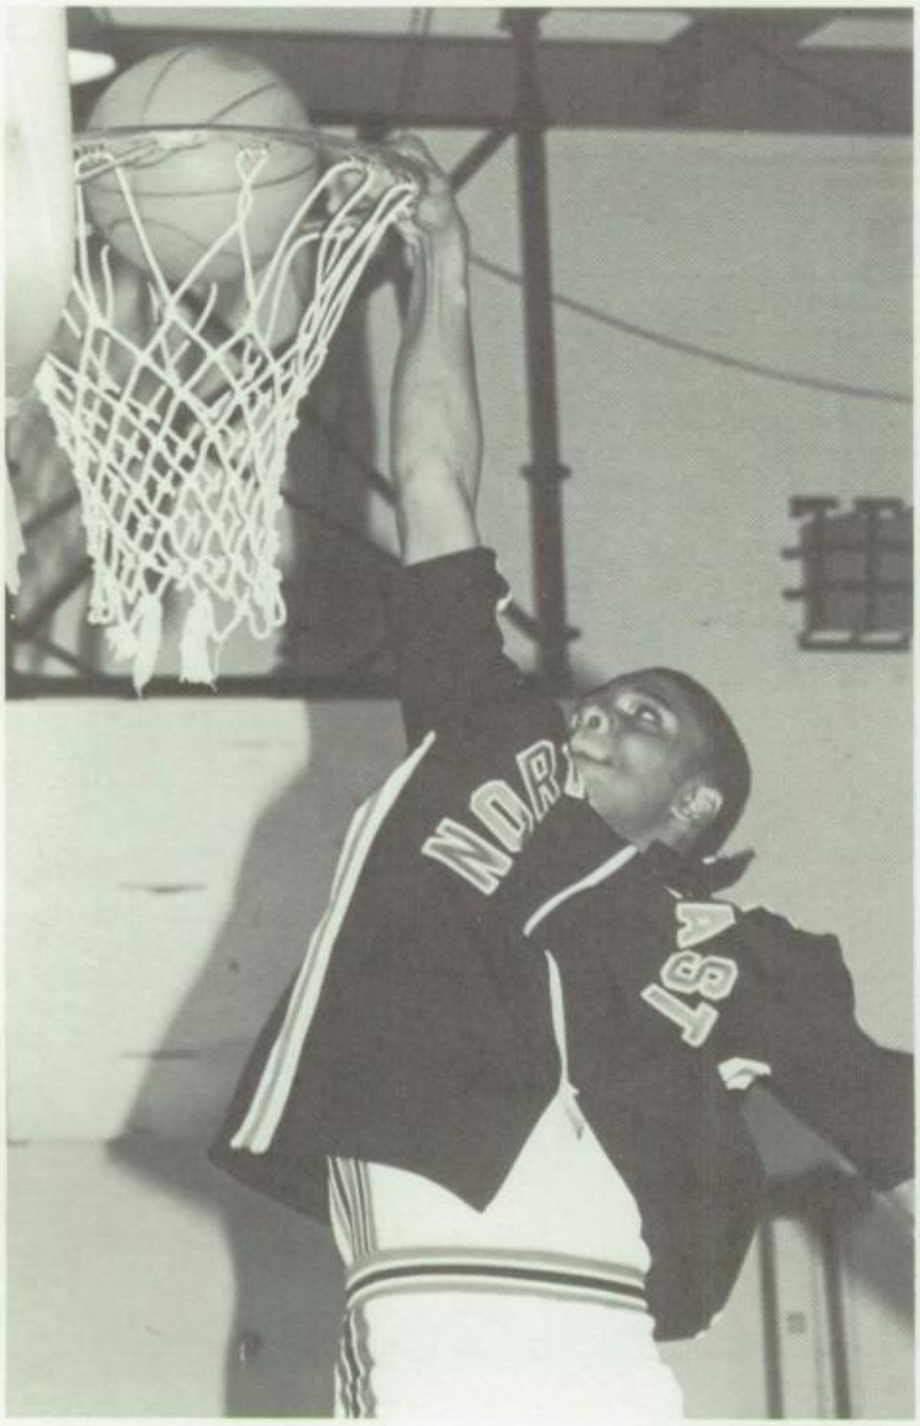
Boys Basketball Boys Basketball Boys Basketball



The Boys' Varsity Basketball team, coached by Mr. Bill Sheppard, had an extremely outstanding season. By defeating their tough competitors, Washington, Olney, Lincoln, and top rated West Philly, the Vikings made it into the playoffs.

Kenny Nelson, John Walden, and Bill Luck averaged over fifteen, fourteen, and thirteen points per game, respectively. Many other fine seniors; James Adams, James Coleman, Michael Drayton, Gordon Govens, and Damon Randolph contributed greatly.

Their successful year however wasn't a result of individual statistics. Their success was due to the fine team basketball that they played. As Coach Sheppard said; "This year's team exhibited team work. Playing fundamental team basketball is what made them solid, playoff contenders".

Strong in spirit and determination, the girls this year turned their inauspicious start into a respectable season. Although they faced a difficult schedule, competing with King, South Philadelphia, and Overbrook, they handled themselves well with their aggressive play. Co-captain and center, Patricia Freeman, along with junior and leading guard Robin Williams have inspired this to improve its image and reputation. Although Ramona Wimbish and Nancy Kelly are leaving the team, the prospects look good as leading scorer Robin Williams, and Ann Doherty and Angie Banks will be returning for the next season.

Wrestling Wrestling Wrestling Wrestling

Through arduous efforts, the 1980-81 varsity wrestling team finished the season with an impressive 4 wins, 5 losses record, the best ever in Northeast's short history of varsity wrestling. Coach Joe Cush and sentor captains Otilio Robledo, Jorge Horta, and Dave Erhart were a key reason for the team's outstanding success this year. Victories over top rated opponents such as Overbrook, Southern, Olney and Franklin evidenced the hard training and practicing the team went through to advance to a playoff contender.

Indoor Track Indoor Track Indoor Track

This year's Boys Indoor Track team, the newest addition to our school's varsity athletic program, quickly earned itself a fine reputation. Through the skillful training of coach James Young, the team has come a long way in only two years. This year six boys qualified in the city individual championship meet, and seven in the state championship meet. The boys 80 yd. relay team, led by senior Glenn Yaffe has won many medals, and is ranked as one of the top in the state. With many of the team members sophomores and juniors its prospect for continuing its winning ways looks excellent.

ORGANIZATIONS

ORGANIZATI

Concert Choir

Under the fine direction of Mr. Robert Steele, the 65 talented members of the Northeast High School Concert Choir joined together to create beautiful music. Dedication is the key to the success of this organization. They rehearse several times a week in preparation for annual performances: the several winter and spring concerts, the spring tour, and various community recitals. This highly acclaimed chorus has a vast repertoire ranging from Bach to Bernstein. This year's Executive Board consisted of Pam Linsk, President; Bob Timlin, Vice President; Renee Rosenfeld, Secretary; Joanne Feig, Treasurer; and Ed Tranoviski, Business Manager. This group devotes much of its time to the choir, helping to coordinate special activities, and fostering a spirit of comradery unique to any organization.

Vocal Jazz Ensemble

Northeast's Vocal Jazz Ensemble is recognized throughout Philadelphia as a vocal group whose fine vocal quality is enjoyable to all listeners. It is a small group, consisting of eighteen talented singers under the direction of Mr. Robert Steele, the vocal music teacher.

Only those students already in the Concert Choir are eligible to audition. Requirements for acceptance include the ability to pleasantly blend with others while singing, and the ability to dance; as several of the songs are choreographed to add vitality to the performance.

Although entitled a "Jazz" ensemble, the vocal group performs all styles of music, from classical to contemporary. The group performs in Northeast's annual winter and spring concerts and tours with the Concert Choir each May. They also sing at many community affairs throughout the year.

Although next year's Vocal Jazz Ensemble will have lost eleven fine graduating members, it will undoubtedly continue to fulfill the fine reputation that it has established. Seniors include (as pictured) from left to right, Linda Silverman, Christine Zador, Renee Rosenfeld, Susan Farina, Jodi Levin, Felisa Lane, Kerma Rilling, Pamela Linsk, Craig Rand, Robert Timlin, Howard Kreiger.

Construction

The construction crew must be considered an important part in the production of Northeast's school show. Supported by Mr. Jeffrey Petty this crew once again succeeded in building the marvelous sets for this year's production of Mame. The construction crew contributed long hours of their time toward creating enjoyable and realistic scenery for the musical production.

This crew boasts a large involvement by seniors. They are to be congratulated for aiding to make the production of Mame this year a great success.

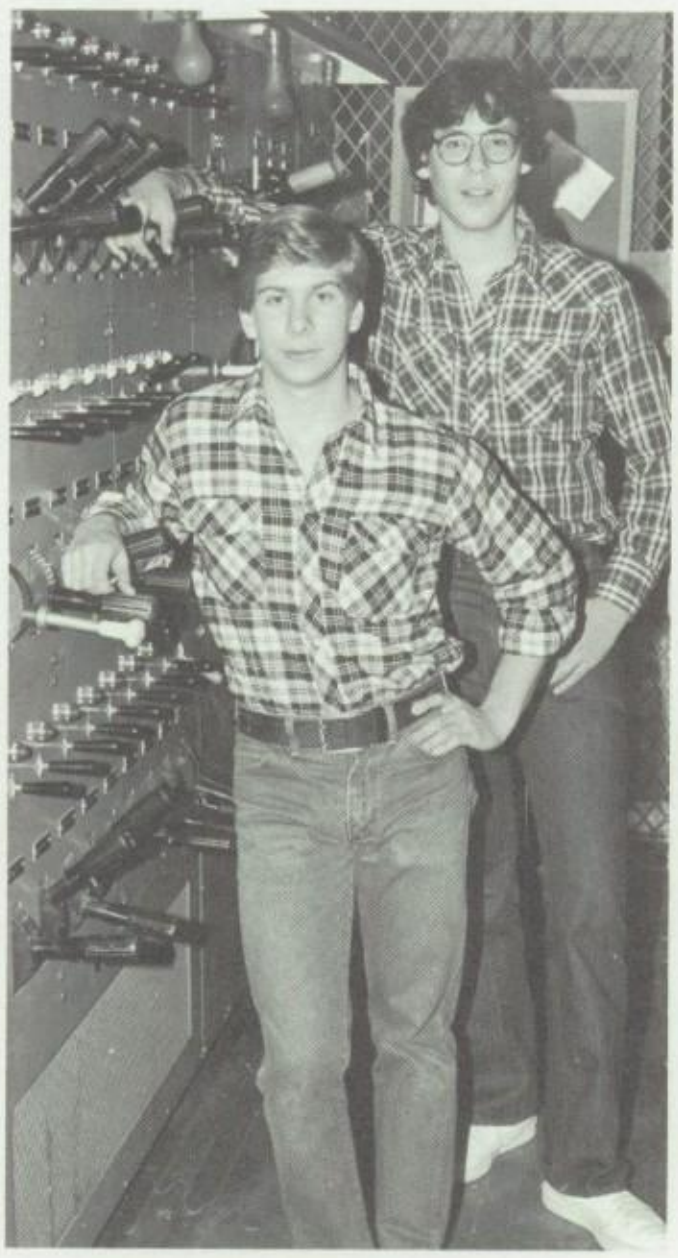
Stage and Construction Crews

We are indeed very fortunate to have a fine group of talented musicians here at Northeast. Working under the direction of Mr. Harry Giamo, the orchestra and band proved themselves to be no less than fantastic. They practiced daily, preparing for the Winter and Spring concerts, traditionally held each year.

One special event in which the orchestra performed in this year was the school show. Through thorough preparation, the orchestra helped make the show a memorable one. Their final performance this year will be at graduation. The orchestra plays an extremely important role by providing the inspirational "Pomp and Circumstance", while the seniors receive their diplomas. Although some of the musicians in the band and orchestra do not plan to continue their musical studies, all of them provided us with worthwhile and enjoyable entertainment throughout the year.



Paul Lerke, Neil Plenn

Stage

Northeast's Sound and Stage Crew is not only responsible for the lighting and sound for the annual musical production but is also involved daily in preparing the stage for advisory in Morrison Hall, setting up special assembly programs, and supplying audio-visual aides where needed.

The job of the stage crew does not necessarily confine its members to the cage behind stage. It also takes them to the press box at the football stadium to announce the football games and prepare for commencement exercises.

Cheerleaders

Northeast teams can always count on their cheerleaders, and nothing is more gratifying than seeing those peppy girls counting up the score against an opponent or leading the student body at a pep rally in Morrison Hall. The Valkyries are the backbone of school spirit, always working to perfection and tirelessly trying to restore life to the sometimes unenthusiastic Northeast fans. Be it sun, rain, or snow, the Valkyries are always on hand to urge the Red and Black to victory. Their success is attributed to their hard working director, Mrs. Wilma Davis. Led by captain Shirley Nyalka along with co-captains Sue Farina and Lynn Jensen, the cheerleaders have done much to instill school spirit on Northeast's students.

Majorettes

This year the majorettes became a integral part of the Creative and Performing Arts Club under the fine direction of Mrs. Wilma Davis, and added a sparkle to the invigorating pep rallies.

The colorful entertainment the girls provided during the half time shows of the football games this year was very enjoyable. These girls not only performed during football games, but also during pep rallies in Morrison Hall. Captain Lynne Poole, co-captains Christine Krueger and Brenda Bitner, seniors Sue Hillman, Sue Gerstlauer, and Chris Zador worked hard along with Mrs. Davis to make this year's squad one of the best.

Marching Band

Once again this year the Northeast High School Marching Band has entertained us with their halftime routines at Viking Football Games. Under the direction of Mr. Harry Giamo our marching band succeeded in creating some original and enjoyable performances, culminating in their salute to the 50's bash at the Thanksgiving Day game. This highly exciting finale to the season included popular hit songs from the 50's era while dressed as though they were 1950's high school students.

Something different from the normal format was used by the marching band this year. A student, Vicki Stama acted as musical director during the halftime shows. All those who chose to participate, giving must of their time and effort, aided in making the marching band this year as great and enjoyable as ever.

Pom-Pom Girls

The Creative Performing Arts Club, consisting of the four organizations pictured on these pages, the Cheerleaders, and the Majorettes, added vitality to many events this past year. The Dance Club performed several times in Morrison Hall as well as at the football games. These six groups certainly enhanced the past year with their choreographed routines, their colorful costumes, and their animated attitude at the pre-game and half-time shows, elevating our spirits.

Spirit Club

The Spirit Club is Northeast's sports involvement committee. The group has the task of increasing fan attendance and interest in our many sports activities. The Spirit Club is served by its own sponsor and Executive Board. The group works well into June, scanning and reporting on Northeast's finest talent in athletics.

The organization is very effective in its efforts to encourage student participation in athletic circles. Its many members paint signs, sell tickets, and stage rallies and assemblies to promote school spirit. Some of the association's achievements in the past have been the spirited pep rallies held for the football team; the jumping sock hops and dances; and this past year, the spashy Thanksgiving Day parade that is sure to become as much of a holiday tradition as the annual Northeast/Central rivalry game. The many colorful posters and artwork displayed in the gym hallways are also products of the Spirit Club.

The high standards of athletic prowess attained by Northeast sports teams is matched only by the hard work of their Spirit Club: a group of dedicated students working throughout the year to raise the spirit of the teams — and the school those teams represent.

Colorful posters line the gym hallways to promote school spirit.

The Alternative for Career Experience is a program that enables seniors to gain first-hand experience in their intended career choice. This is an independent study course that is offered as a fifth major requiring a minimum of six hours a week of supervised volunteer work.

Each student undergoes individual observation by Mrs. Vivian Langberg, the program's instructor, at their particular placement. Their grades are not only based upon observation, but also upon quarterly evaluations from the student's sponsors, time logs, journals, and final papers.

This year ACE offered a wide range of career placements from accounting to zoology. Some of the selected fields were communications, engineering, law, medicine, nursing, physical therapy, and teaching.

Students involved in this program found it a worthwhile and fulfilling experience enabling them to sample their intended career fields and gain the leadership to make a wise choice about their future plans.

National Honor Society

The National Honor Society of Northeast High is a very selective group of students who excel academically and are active in the school and community. This year, the chapter's members were led by President Robin Rochlin, Vice President Debbie Rose, and Secretary Renee Rosenfeld. The Honor Society has served the school in two ways; providing a free tutoring service for students, and continuing the Society by selecting new members. Each year, the Honor Society also sponsors a fund raiser. The fine results that the group has achieved could never have been accomplished without the extensive help of its sponsor, Dr. Shinfeld. The Jefferson Chapter of the Honor Society has a fine reputation and takes pride in its members and its accomplishments.

The Foreign Langauge Honor Society has been established to commend those student who excel in their foreign language studies and who wish to continue their education in the language. Department Head Miss Schenfeld and the langauge teachers chose those students who demonstrated high ability and interest in one or more languages and inducted them into Northeast's chapter of the National Honor Society for students of Spanish and French.

One of the less visible organizations in Northeast High School, the Debating team nonetheless finished the season this year with an outstanding record placing first in the Public League. Varsity Debators compiled a record of 7 and 1, defeating Frankford, Lincoln, Washington, Gratz, and Saul, losing only to Lincoln. Led by Captain Sheldon Oppenheim and President Edward Weber Northeast's debators prepared diligantly for their debates researching the resolution: Resolved that the Federal Government should initiate and enforce safety guarantees on consumer goods. The forensic background the debators have attained at Northeast will undoubtedly prove to be beneficial to them in their future endeavors.

Keeping the teenage years alive. That is the work of the Archive Staffs, a group of people working tirelessly to complete a very difficult task. The Archive is a project that, is divided into four sections. The Art Staff, led by Ami Cohen, is responsible for all of the book's illustrations. The Photography Staff, under Robert Garbus, handles all candid and club pictures. Cindy Waldman's Business Staff prepares final draft for all written material, which Chet Nastala's Literary Staff, has the arduous task of writing copy for the yearbook.

Now that you have gathered all of this, what do you do with it? Well, you organize it into creative pages.

This is the task of the editors, and this year's group is among the best. The innovative idea of this year's Archive will be hopefully carried on in future editors.

The entire project is under the supervision of Mr. Harvey Coffman. We hope that all we have learned has been put to good use, and that this book will be enjoyed by class 140.

Megaphone

A typewriter, carbon paper, and two creative undergraduates yielded a new literary publication for Northeast students to read in October of 1922. The students: Stanley Lang and Bill Pehlert, both of the Class of 1924. The circular: "Ye Olde Dumbell", later changed to its better known title today: THE NORTHEAST MEGAPHONE.

The MEGAPHONE is the official school newspaper, published six times per year. It has its own sponsors, editors, and literary and business staffs. It relays information on practically everything happening within Northeast, plus special stories and interviews.

Keeping the school informed, the NORTHEAST MEGAPHONE has been a vital part of the school — and its students — for close of 60 years. In the semester to come, it will surely sustain the high quality of literary standing that its headlines proudly bear today.

SPARC

Project SPARC (Space Research Capsule), started in 1962 by a grant from the fed, involves the science and engineering in a simulated space flight. This extracurricular program, directed by Mr. Robert Montgomery, contains approximately sixty students. The various groups within it are Astronaut, Secretarial, Flight Planning, Systems Engineering, Medical, and Computer. Each group has certain goals which are to be completed before a flight can take place.

The basic plan was of a four day, one hundred hour flight, during which three student astronauts would remain in a student constructed, simulated capsule. Various tests would be performed on them throughout that time period.

EFAT

The Emergency First Aid Team, under the supervision of Mr. Robert Montgomery, provides Basic First Aid and Cardiopulmonary Resuscitation (CPR) service to most of the sport teams. All members have certificates which legally permit them to give aid to injured players. The athletic groups served by this team include football, basketball, gymnastics, wrestling and baseball.

For the past few years, selected members of EFAT have participated with the Northeast Branch of the American Red Cross in the Mid-Atlantic Division First Aid Competition at Ursinus College, in both Advanced and Basic First Aid Meets, and plan to continue in this fashion.

Math Team

One of the most obscure student groups is the Northeast High math team — a club that competes with various other schools in math contests. This team fared very well against the traditional champions, Washington and Central. Last year as juniors, this particular team was honored in a luncheon at the Shack for their second place finish in the public league the highest in the teams' history.

Receiving little recognition because of its relative obscurity the team members nevertheless enjoyed the competition as a chance to test their problem solving skills.

Ushers Club

The Ushers Club, sponsored by Mrs. Jane Goldman, is of great importance in the many extra-curricular activities of Northeast High School. The President and Vice-President assisting the sponsor with her many duties are seniors Ellyn Tarlo and Nancy Stein. Mindy Mandel, the secretary, keeps all the record and assignment sheets in the Ushers Club in order. Duties include: guiding VIP's to their destination, assisting parents to the location of the teacher during Open House, and escorting people to their seats at concerts.

To the members of the 140th Graduating Class,
It is with great pleasure and pride that I congratulate you on the completion of your studies at Northeast High School. During these three years, I have witnessed a metamorphis as you became a spirited, enthusiastic class whose efforts on behalf of your classmates and your community have been exceptional. You, as a group, have endeavored to accomplish much, and you have been successful in this effort. You have faced the difficulties of our changing times with resolve and inventiveness, wishing to offer your classmates diverse and worthwhile programs and activities. My heartiest congratulations on your success.

It has been my very great pleasure to work with you during this time, and my deepest affection goes with each of you. May your future be "a period of time in which your affairs prosper, your friends are true and your happiness is assured."

Dear Friends:

As our secondary school education comes to an end, may we look to the future for bigger and better things. Higher education or immediate employment are choices we must make. Whatever your destination may be, reach for it and get what you are looking for. Never forget these years; our memories will last forever.

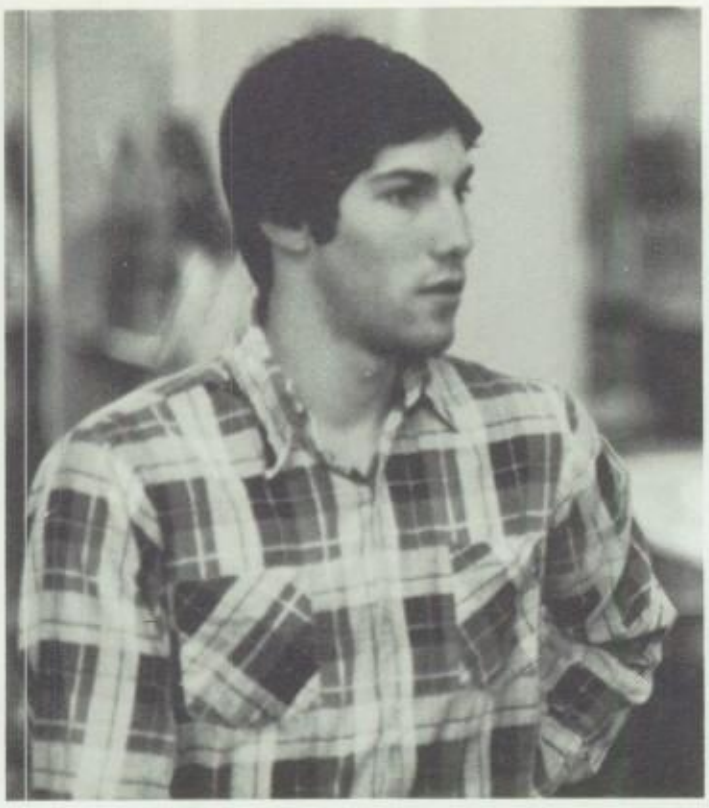
Council



Throughout our sophomore, junior, and senior years, although it was not evident, our class council had been working diligently, planning our many class and school activities.

Class councilmen are among the most active students in the school. They are responsible for all the preparation, planning, and running of class activities.

Last year, students in the council, constructed an eight foot class ring, designed by Ami Saitsky, to enhance the ring day celebration in Morrison Hall. During the entire year the junior prom committees, led by councilmen, worked to bring about an extremely successful junior prom. Near the close of your junior year the council came up with a new and innovative idea — the Junior — Senior Day. This event turned out to be extremely enjoyable and successful, hopefully setting a precedent for future classes.

Chairmen

The Senior Prom is one of the most memorable events of a lifetime. Each person reflects upon it with different emotions but all agree that it is a highlight of one's years in high school.

To most people, the prom was a one night event, beginning at 8:00 on June 11, but in actuality, the prom began in November. Under the supervision of senior class sponsor, Joan Weisberg: prom committees were formed early in the year to undertake the tremendous task of planning this special event.

Headed by coordinators Mark Marshall, and Nancy Brown, the Senior Prom Committees formed and worked diligently to insure everyone an enjoyable prom. Working closely with the coordinators were the prom chairman of the Music Committee (Gary Maisus and Kevin Cooke), Invitations and Tickets (Amy Saitsky and Todd Salkovitz), Publicity (Debbie Rose and Elissa Silverman), Favors (Andrea Cohen and Linda Silverman), Theme (Paula Van Collen and Angela Murray), and Program Coordinator Andrea Simpson. Each of these people contributed their time and effort toward the completion of the prom plans, a task appreciated by all who attended.

FLIC

Amyone who studies a foreign language or culture at Northeast should know the importance of the F.L.I.C. aides. The aides devote their lunch periods to assist students using F.L.I.C., Northeast's Foreign Language Instructional Center. The center currently houses approximately 2000 books and many other instructional media: foreign newspapers, periodicals, pamphlets, and records. Supervised by Foreign Language Department Head, Mrs. Schenfeld, F.L.I.C. is a valuable asset to Northeast.

Office

The main office at Northeast is a bustling and essential part of the school itself. For this reason the help of the office aides is indispensable. These aides assist in the office anyway they can; by running messages, answering phones and switching calls, typing, and doing other important tasks. These people should be congratulated for the excellent service they render to the school.

Noi only do they send out our transcripts and recommendations tl also publish a newsletter "About More Education" designed to infori students about career and scholarship opportunities. Assisting college counselor, Mrs. Cora Hurwitz, these students are invaluat to the school and its students, facilitating our higher education and maintaining Northeast's fine reputation.

The school store aides are managed by Mrs. E. Riese, assisted by Mr. Smith. Providing a beneficial service to the students by devoting their time, the school store also aides everyone as its profits go to the general fund to purchase better facilities.

Dean

The Dean's Aides are a vital component of Northeast High School's diciplinary department. Assisting the Dean, Mr. John Young, and the Assistant Dean, Miss Rosn Green, the aides volunteer their time during lunch periods, gym periods, advisory, and after school.

The aides do many secretarial jobs; including locating pink slips, and writing detentions, and reinstatements cards. The Dean's office relies on organization and enormous help is given by the aides through filing detention cards and pink slips. Also, the aides are responsible for the many errands needed to be done including taking notes to teachers and locating students.

The Counselor's Aides are an essential part of the counseling services in Northeast. Their duties entail running errands, locating students through the roster room, and locating quick information about students. When the counselors are out or busy the aides answer the phone and take messages.

Assisting Mrs. Polin, Mr. Flexner, Mr. Katz, Mrs. Askin and Mr. Gols, these aides volunteer their time during lunch and gym periods, advisory, and after school. The time and effort volunteered by these students maintains an efficient and organized counseling office.

Red Cross Club

Northeast High School's Red Cross Club is recognized throughout the city for its annual and highly successful operation of the Bloodmobile.

The semi-annual blood drive aides in resupplying depleted hospital reserves. There are always plenty of donors, and these people are rewarded with cancellations of gym make-ups.

But the Red Cross Club's activities do not end here; the club also tours hospitals and homes for the aged, bringing handmade gifts, hoping to elevate the spirits of the patients.

Societies

Asian Culture

The Asian Culture Society is a group dedicated to the preservation of Asian customs in America. Aside from studying the way in which Asians adjust to life in America, under the guidance of Miss Sylvia Schenfeld, these students are also involved in seminars and cultural events pertaining to Oriental culture.

Black Culture

The Black Culture Society, devoted to the study of Black heritage, is headed by history teacher, Mr. Herbert Byrd. Mr. Byrd contends that the culture and customs of Blacks in America have been shaped and developed as a response to the society in which they live. He states that one of the ways through which Blacks articulated their feelings was through music and the Blues, which developed into what we know now as jazz.

Annually, the Society performs a program during Black History Month designed to enlighten other students to the rich heritage of Black America, and the many contributions made by famous Blacks to the development of American Society.

WNEH Radio Station

Its 7:30 in the morning and you're hanging around listening to your favorite music. No you're not cutting school; you're in the lunchroom listening to WNEH.

WNEH is Northeast's very own radio station. It features news, sports, and a wide variety of music. Disc-jockeys, Alan Vladimir and Kevin Cooke broadcast everyday before school and on Fridays during lunch periods.

Under the supervision and instruction of Mr. Belasco, WNEH provides an excellent opportunity for students to gain first hand knowledge in the fields of broadcasting and communications. Because the Disc-Jockeys provide the albums, the music is never out-dated and the modern equipment makes the good vibrations a welcome wake-up before school.

Radio Transmitting Society

Commonly known as the Ham Radio Club, the Radio Transmitting Society engages in communicating with ham radio stations throughout the entire world.

Established in 1912, the Radio Transmitting Society bears the distinction of being the oldest ham radio club in the United States.

The radio station, with call letters W3YC, exists in an out of the way corner of the Electrical shop. Under the direction of Mr. Lynford Rowland, the Radio Transmitting Society continues to be a unique and exciting experience for all of its members, including Seniors Dean Knesbach, and Brian Salko.

Dionysus Club

Some people are truly devoted to the theatre. Fortunately Northeast now has a club to accomodate these thesbians. This year with the help of her Ladyship Dorothea Cahan, the Dionysus Club was created. You see, Dionysus is the Greek God associated with the theatre, among other things! The club meets at the eclipses of the moon to discuss famous Greek plays. Recently, they did a wonderful improvisation of the history of Helen of Troy. Order in the club is kept by Jeff Schwartz, keeper of the grapes, and Eric Sofronski, Vice-Keeper of the grapes. Assisting them is the Dionysian Court — Dave Allen, Jill Brockman, Laurie Rosedale, and Caryn Taylor.

Expressions

Northeast's literary magazine Expressions completed one publication filled with creative material from its literary staff and from students submitting poems and short stories. This publication allows aspring writers and authors the opportunties to have their works reviewed, criticized, and published. Even though difficulties prevented the second printing, the students involved enjoyed seeing their works in print.

Developing their practical skills in numerous fields such as clerical work, data processing, carpentry, plumbing, electrical work, health services, and construction, the students that attend Swenson prepare for the future while still in school. They are a dedicated group that attend Swenson one week and Northeast the next.

Swenson students work in clusters of related fields. All the construction, plumbing, electrical and carpentry workers planned and constructed a two story, fully functional house, which they later sold for profit. The health services cluster prepares students for work as dental technicians, lab assistants, x-ray technicians, and related careers. Other clusters offer students useful training in cosmetology, automotive repair and commercial artistry. The combination of academic study at Northeast and practical training at Swenson has prepared these students well for their intended career.

Ski Club

Several years ago, ski club sponsor Howard Freidman instituted a developmental program of beginner ski instruction that gave club members a sound basis in ski technique and quickly developed their confidence. All members were soon looking for more challenging slopes to conquer. Mr. Freidman planned for a gradual increase in difficulty beginning with Doe Mountain progressing to Jack Frost, and finally ending with Elk Mountain, the closest thing to Vermont skiing in Pennsylvania.

Now that Senior members have progressed past the day trip skiing experiences, they, along with all the other graduates, can participate in the N.E. Alumni Ski Club, one of the few Northeast organizations that has planned for active reunions of N.E. graduates and their new families and friends. The Alumni will be able to plan ski weekends and longer ski vacations and have the benefit of group rates. This new branch of the ski club can be as successful as the undergraduate club, because it has the support of the class of 140 to begin the tradition.

In which student organization would you expect to see students playing with apples? The Northeast computer club has eight apples with which its members do much more than play. An Apple is a micromo-computer that can be programmed in the same way as larger conventional computers. With its total collection of eight Apples, of which four were donated by the Northeast Alumni Association, the computer club offers students the opportunity to learn more about computers as they program them. This year the club upheld its tradition of sponsoring the annual Computer Fair at Northeast.

World Affairs Club

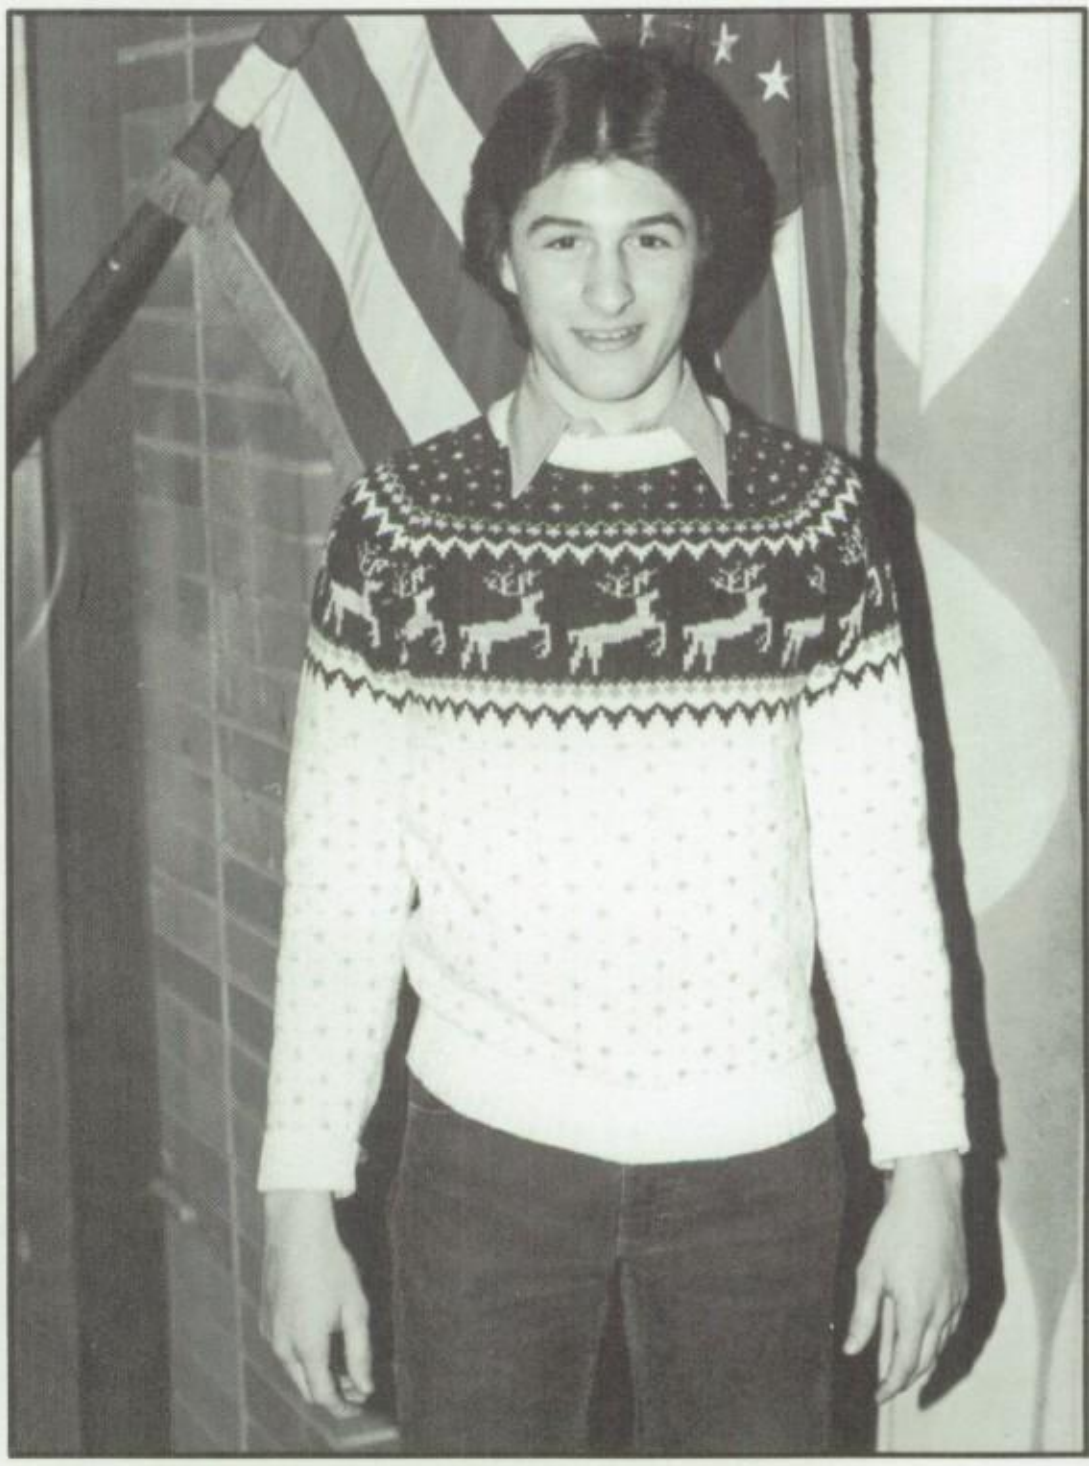
The World Affairs Club consists of a small group of devoted individuals with a common interest in politics. Under its sponsor, Mr. Stephen Hecht, the group meets once a week to discuss current world issues. It has toured the United Nations building in New York City and has visited the nation's capital in Washington, D.C. The group attended a symposium on hunger and often participates in model Senates and United Nations seminars at the University of Pennsylvania. At Northeast they discuss various topics, ranging from nuclear disarmament to new energy resources. Seniors are; president Sheldon Oppenheim, Kevin Rok Kim, Dean Knesbach, Ira Weiss, and Henry Parker.

Sponsor

Dear Seniors:
Involvement — that's the key word for students who are active in the Senate. These students are encouraged to assume responsibilities in all activities and the day-to-day operation of the school, as well. As a result, these students are proud of their accomplishments and work hard to improve Northeast High School.
As sponsor of the Senate, I wish to thank all those students who have given so much to their school. I sincerely hope that their involvement, loyalty and leadership capabilities will continue to enrich their lives in the future.
Fondly,

Eileen A. Komins

President



This year, in the Senate, we have achieved many of our goals. The Charity Committee has consistently raised money through bake sales, a flea market, and other fund raisers. We have earned more money this year than any other in the past, which is donated to various charities. The Environmental Committee painted most of the bathrooms in the school. In addition, we planned some special events, which have never been attempted.

Participation in the Senate has given us the opportunity to gain the knowledge of responsibility and leadership. I would like to thank everyone involved with the Senate, especially Mrs. Komins, for without their cooperation and hard work, these achievements could never have been reached.

Sincerely,

Howard Brooks

Executive Board

Executive Committee is comprised of the Senate President, the Chairmen and Vice-Chairmen from each committee, and the president of each class council. These officers plan events throughout the year and vote on new proposal to help the student body, which is referred to and administered by the appropriate committee.

The Senators are elected officers from each advisory. They are messengers that attend Senate meetings and then return to their sections to inform their advisories of Senate activities and news.

By Laws /SMP

This year, the By-Laws and the Student Mediation Panel Committees headed by Jeff Waksman and Barbara Levick have formed one group — By-Laws/SMP. The By-Laws part of this committee proposes amendments to the Constitution of the Student Association which will help to better serve its students. Using the Student Bill of Rights and good judgement, the SMP handles grievances concerning school from the students.

Senate Committees

Charity

The duty of the charity committee is to raise money for such causes as the Cancer Association, Muscular Dystrophy and other charities. Successful funding was accomplished through bake sales and an annual Holday Flea Market under the supervision of Chairmen Robert Averbach and Elaine Daniel.

Elections

This committee, led by Gary Maisus, makes sure that all elections are run fairly and squarely. Under the new system set up by this committee, it is virtually impossible for students to tamper with elections. Responsible for the three class elections and two senate elections, members of this committee work throughout the year tallying votes for them.

Eviron – mental

The Evironmental Committee members have last been in the bathrooms with paint brushes in their hands. As a continuing tradition, they have been painting over the grafiti in the bathrooms with red and black paint. Under the supervision of Vice-Chairman Caryn Taylor, this group has attempted to make life at Northeast more pleasant.

Federation of Clubs

A representative from each club and other interested students form the Federation of Clubs. If a group of students wishes to form a club or activity, they must come to the Federation for approval. This committee also sets a standard for how many Senate points are assigned to each club. At the end of each year, seniors with more than 100 points attend a banquet in their honor.

Publicity

Using paint, magic markers and paper, the Publicity Committee, headed by Chairman Debbie Rose and Vice-Chairman Elissa Silverman, makes signs and posters that tell of upcoming events. These notices are placed around the school to inform the students of the events to promote participation in them.

Public Relations

Chairman Robin Rochlin and her committee inform the community of what is happening at Northeast. They do this by writing articles to local Newspapers and contacting radio stations about the school's activities and accomplishments.

Social/ Assemblies

The Social and Assemblies Committees have united this year. They bring the students special assemblies and social events, such as guest speakers in Morrison Hall, movies, and other entertainment.

Project INVEST

Project INVEST is a joint venture of the insurance community and the Philadelphia public school system whose purpose is to acquaint students with the insurance industry. INVEST, Insurance Vocational Education Student Training, helped the students who participated this year not only to view the insurance industry as a possible career choice but also to gain some valuable training.

PAINE

The Procrastinator's Association in Northeast is a group of people who put off until tomorrow what they can do today. After a three year hiatus the society was refounded by Adam Dickstein and Chet Nastala. Very late in the year applications were distributed to all prospective members. Those who returned the applications by the stated deadline were rejected, while those who did not were accepted.

PAINE's executive council planned and organized a number of activities such as a celebrity roast of Miss Piggy and an eight day, five night trip to Hong Kong; however, these events were postponed to a later date.

The group planned on having several meetings throughtout the year, however everyone forgot to show up, because someone forgot to post the dates. Hopefully, this worthwhile organization will be perpetuated by following classes who possess an an equal amount of initiative and motivation, or lack of the above.

Rites of Passage Core Group

In high school it is not easy to find someone to relate your problems to. The members of the Rites of Passage have made themselves available to students, providing them with support during their troubled times. Regardless of the nature of their problem, students turned to the core group for assistance. By helping students cope and make independent decisions, the core group continued in its fine tradition of excellent counseling.

Chess Team

This year the Chess Team finished with a record of seven wins, eight losses, and no ties. The determination and hard work of its members has made it one of the better scholastic teams in Philadelphia.

Although seniors Wesley Ward and Donald Campbell will be graduating, their fine leadership will serve as an inspiration in future years.

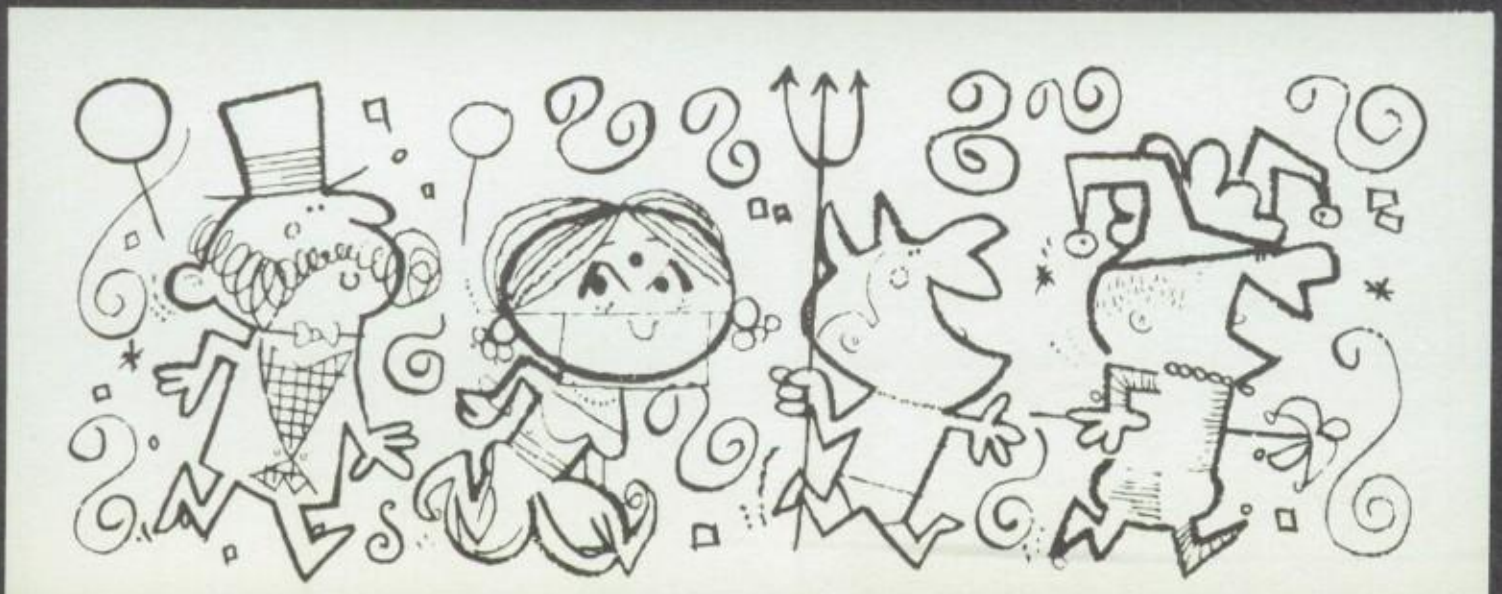
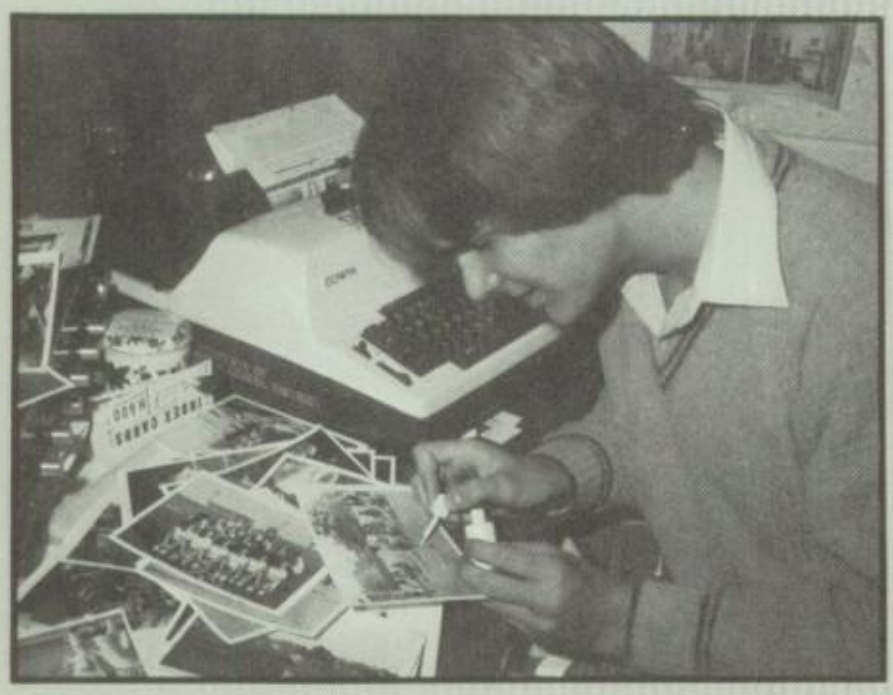
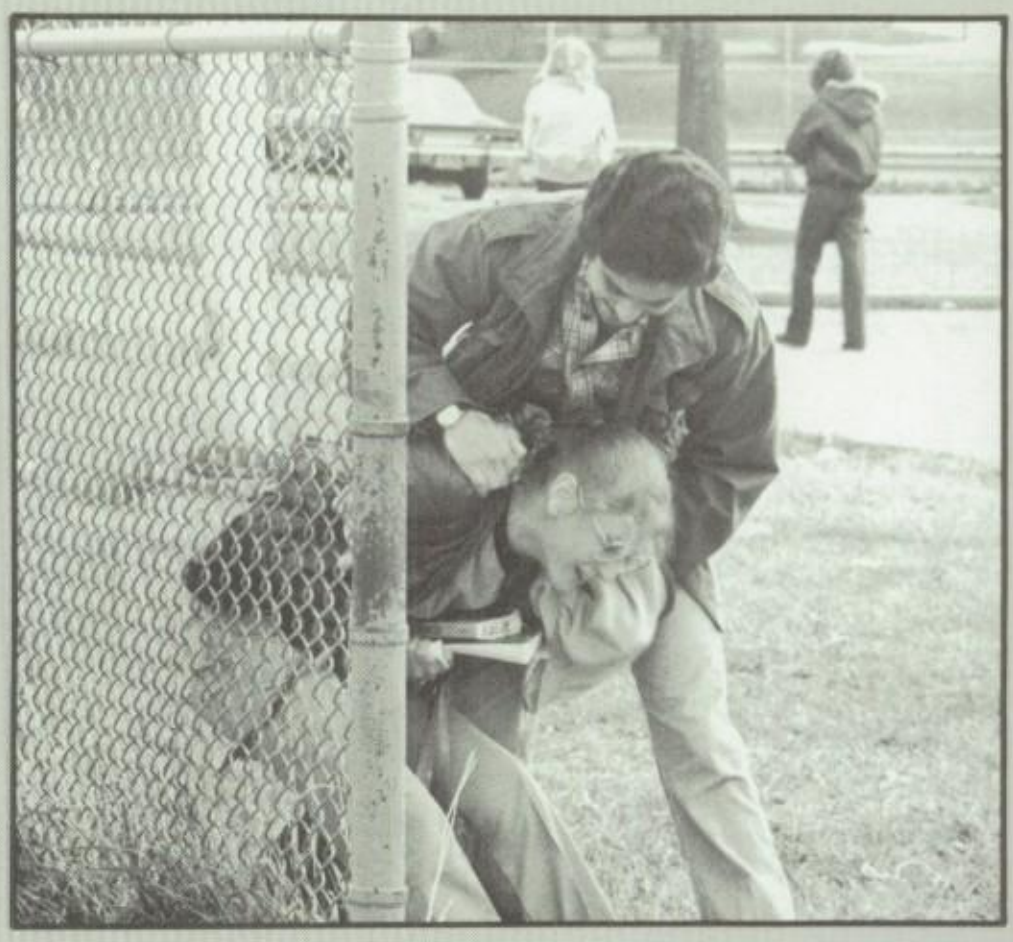
The students who work in the child development laboratory, under the supervision of Mrs. Lois Goldberg, help in directing the pre-schoolers in their daily activities. Each student is given various responsibilities which alternate throughout the year, such as helping the children in the bathroom and cloakroom and supervising their play.

Although each student takes her responsibility quite seriously and works very hard, no one should be under the impression that the lab is all work and no fun. The members of the lab also participate in the pre-schooler's holiday celebrations: Christmas, Easter, and Halloween.

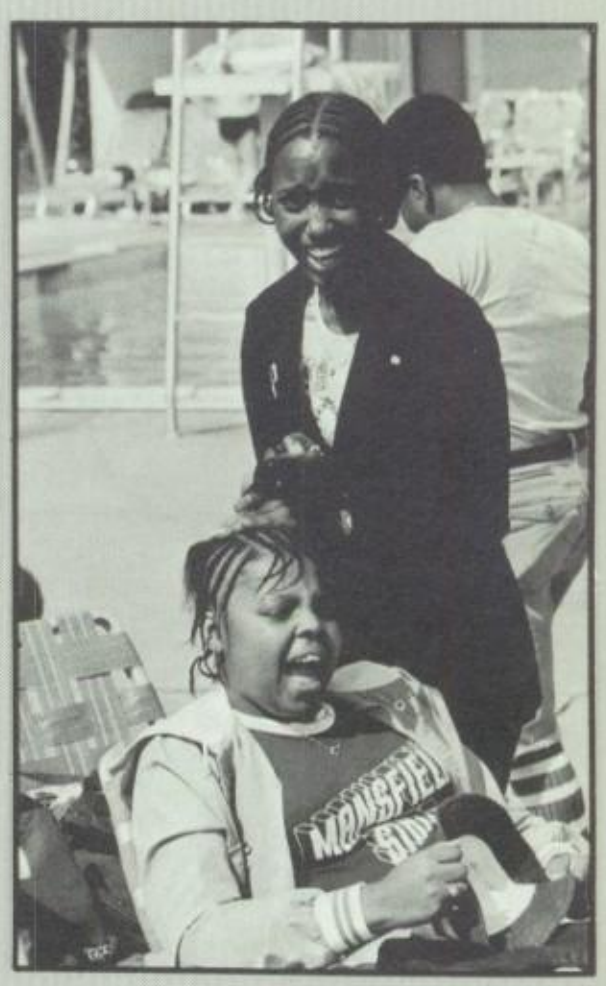
Aside from gaining experience in dealing with children on a one to one basis, the students also learn about the development of a child, mentally and physically. They are taught how to deal with the physical and emotional needs of children and how to play a beneficial role in their growth and development. The child development laboratory is a wonderful place for students to learn about children and care for them.





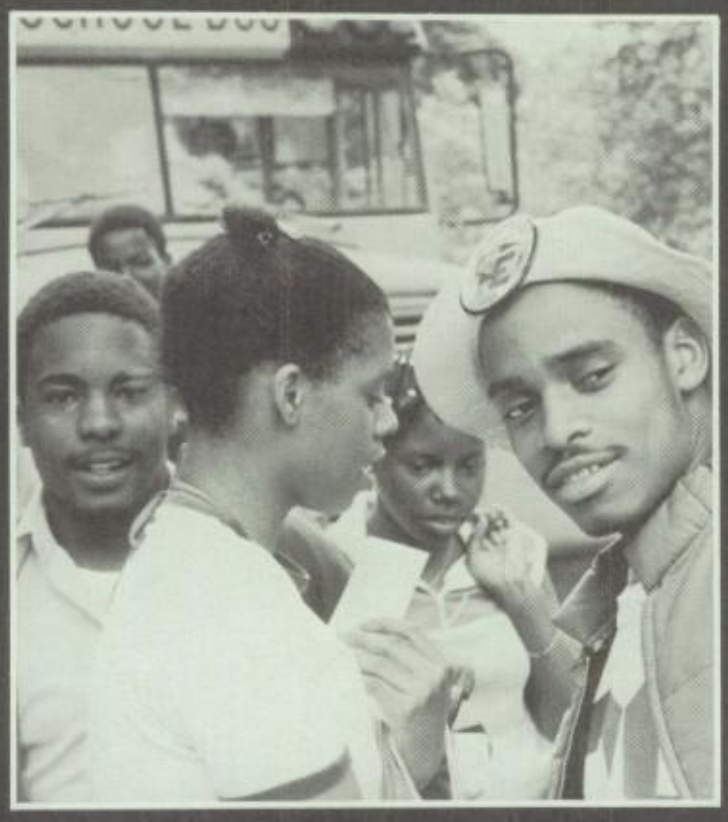


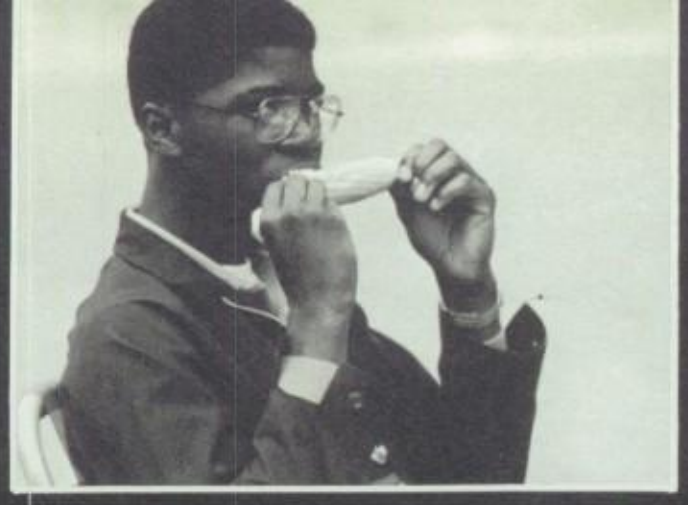
The greenest green I've ever seen
Was the grass on which you lay
And the reddest red I've always said
Was the summer sun at day.
The blackest black when I look back
Were the stormy days gone by
But the bluest blue I ever knew
Was when I had to say "goodbye."

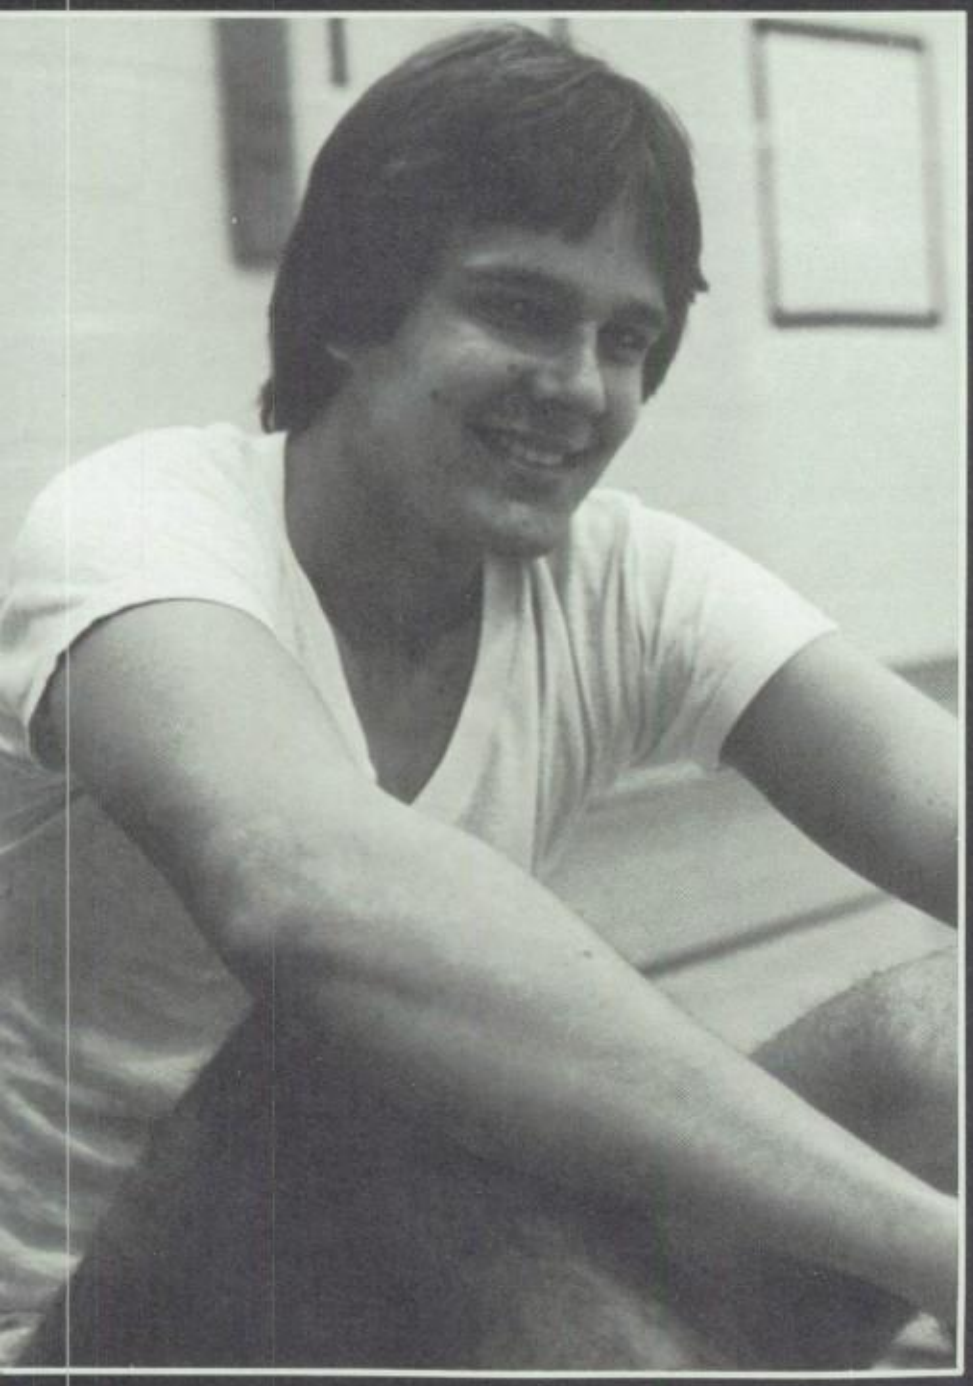


HAPPY BIRTHDAY
MICKEY!

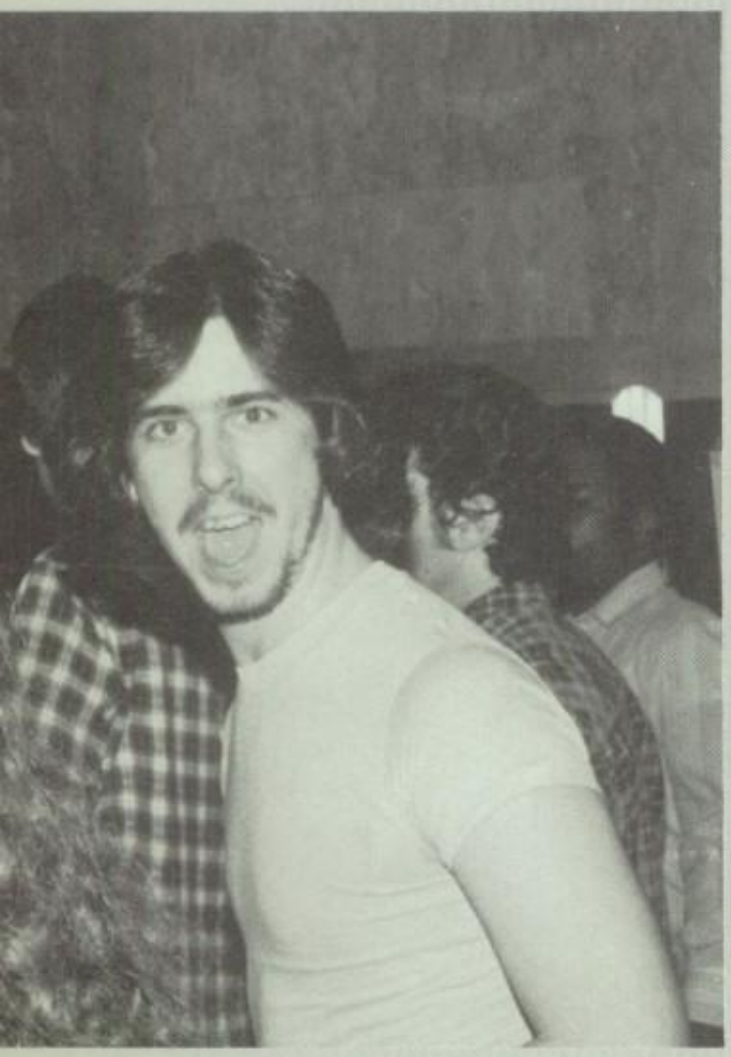
AROUND NORTHEAST







Do You Remember?



Sitting by a window, alone
Watching the frozen rain, and thinking

Of days gone by
When memories were things you were going
To make tomorrow
And high school was a thing of today

Of friends you didn't have to call
Because they were there — everyday
And of the school you said you'd never miss
Until after you had gone away

Of learning, and hopes, and wondrous dreams
Of the visions of the future
And how perfect it would be
Of getting out on your own
Breaking the ties, becoming "independent"
Of starting anew and fresh
With a promising life ahead

But what of the other life?
The one you left behind
The one you can vividly recall
In the pages of a big book
That sits on your shelf

The life cannot be discarded
It is forever there, a part of you
And it will live and breathe and thrive in you

As long as you can use the amazing mind
That was given to you — and remember.

LITERARY

Changes. As our high school years draw to a close we are faced with the reality of a changing lifestyle. As we leave the security and protection of Northeast High School most of us will experience a changing environment and a change of friends.

These changes should not be looked on as something in our lives that we have lost, but rather something we have gained. Look to the future changes as stepping stones to a more promising and productive life.

Knowing that we will continue to face changes in the future, we will always possess the memories of the wonderful changes we went through in our years at Northeast High in the pages of the Archive.

Best wishes for success and happiness.
Sincerely,
Archive Editors

EXIT

A sophomore, naive, new within the walls
Late, confused, and lost in the halls

Roster mix-ups, gym suits, library passes
Middle Shift, homework, being late for clases

Term papers, school food, feeling so small
Advisory's daily bulletin read aloud in Morrison Hall

A junior, experienced, returning to school
Preparing for another year, feeling autumn cool

Tokens, football games, Senate charities
Bagel sales, school jackets, so many activities

Class trips, SAT's, an elegant junior prom
June heat, school musicals, another hard term gone

A senior, the last year, heads full of knowledge
Waiting for graduation, planning on work and college

Class rank, applications, the close drawing near thoughts of yesterday, today, and the unknown of next year

On that last day, yearbook in hand,
The breath of a heavy sigh
Ony to whirl around in disbelief
To see my high school years pass by.

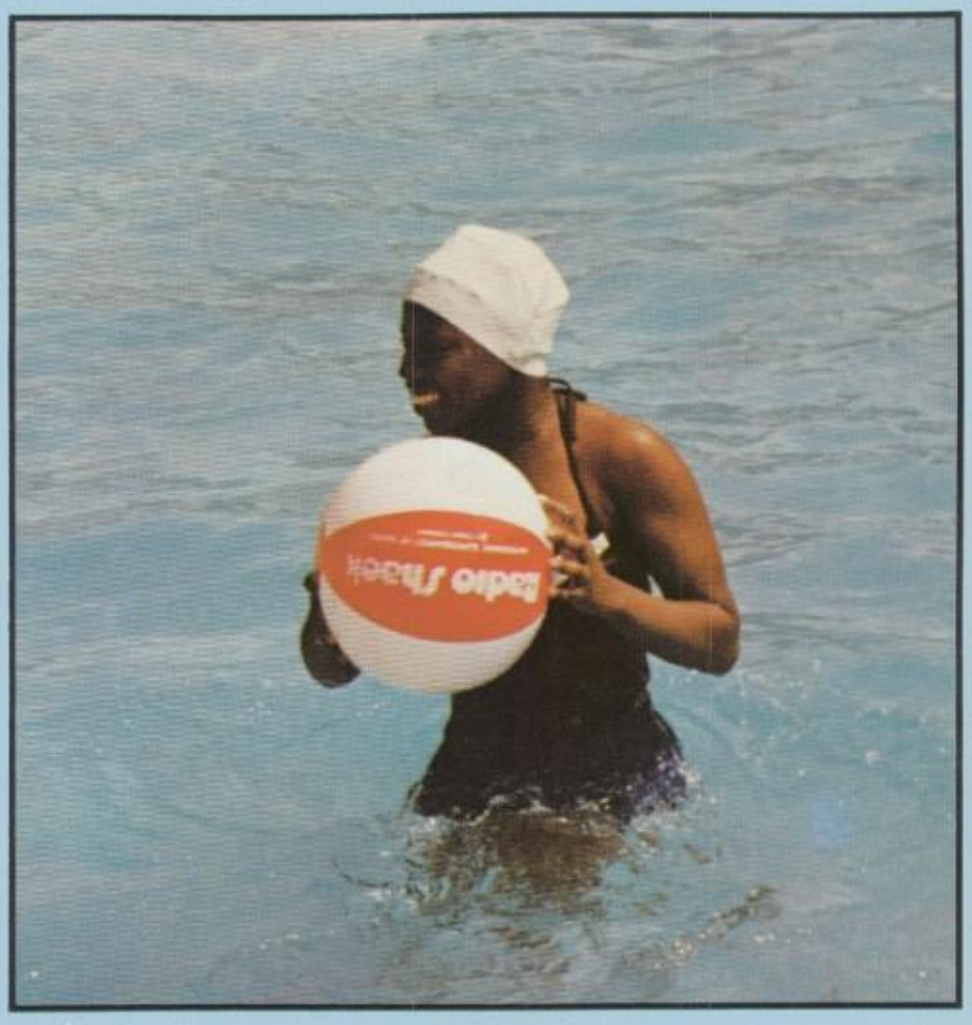
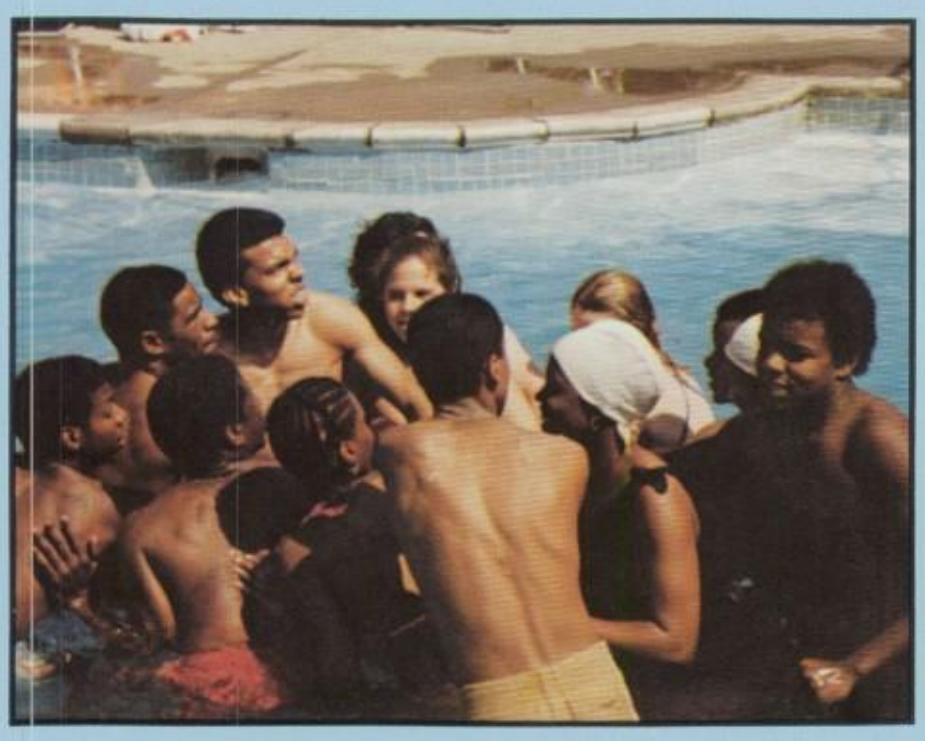
THE JUNIOR-SENIOR PICNIC, a fun filled day of competition between the juniors and seniors was an overwhelming success despite the fact that the rain put a damper on our activities at the end of the day. This type of competition was the first of its kind at Northeast, replacing the traditional "move-up day", previously held in the school auditorium. Hopefully, the immense success of this activity will set a precedent for holding a "Junior-Senior Picnic" each year.

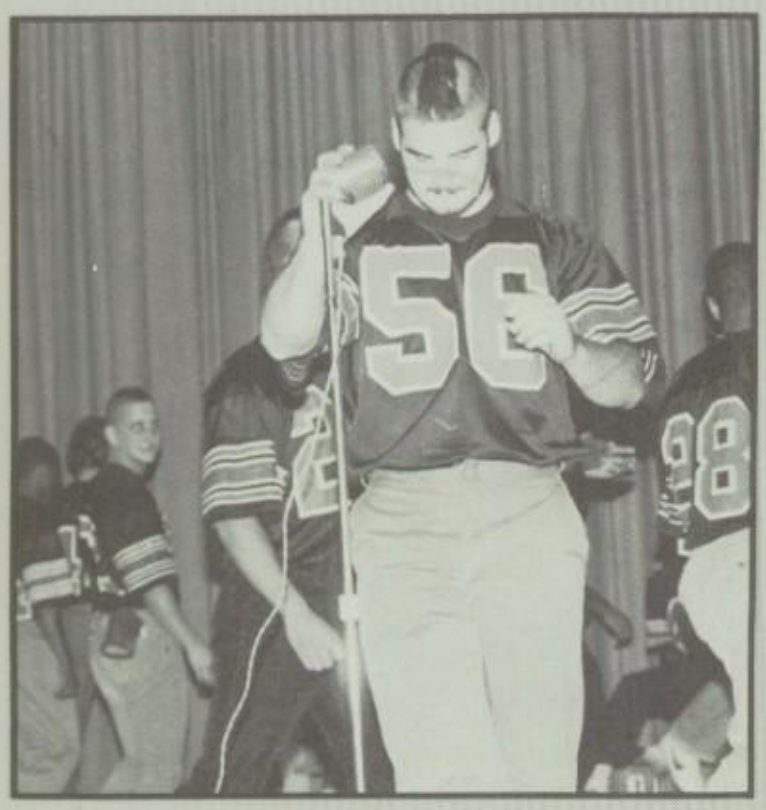
During the day juniors competed against seniors in everything from basketball to volleyball. In the pool almost everyone enjoyed swimming or playing water polo, while others participated in inner-tube and relay races.

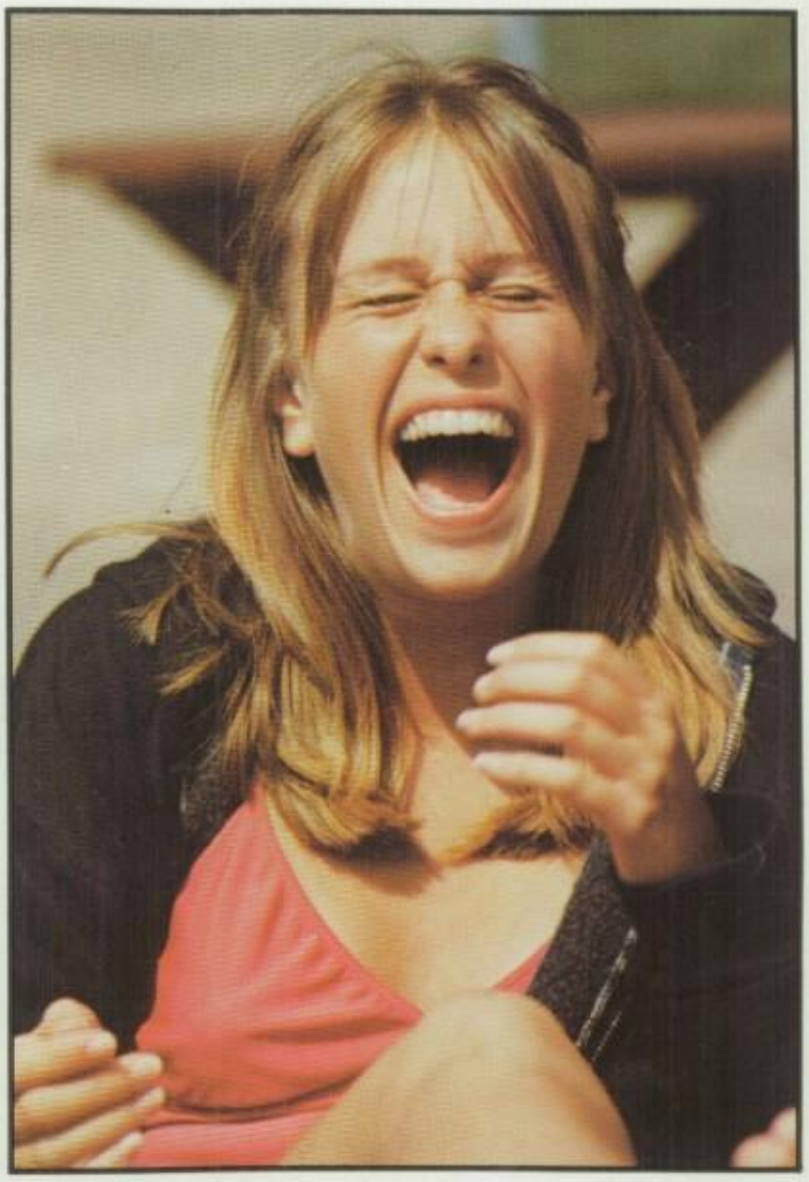
There were also potato-sack races, egg tosses, and three-legged races, which everyone enjoyed either participating or spectating. The competitive spirit of our class sparked us on to defeat last year's graduating class.

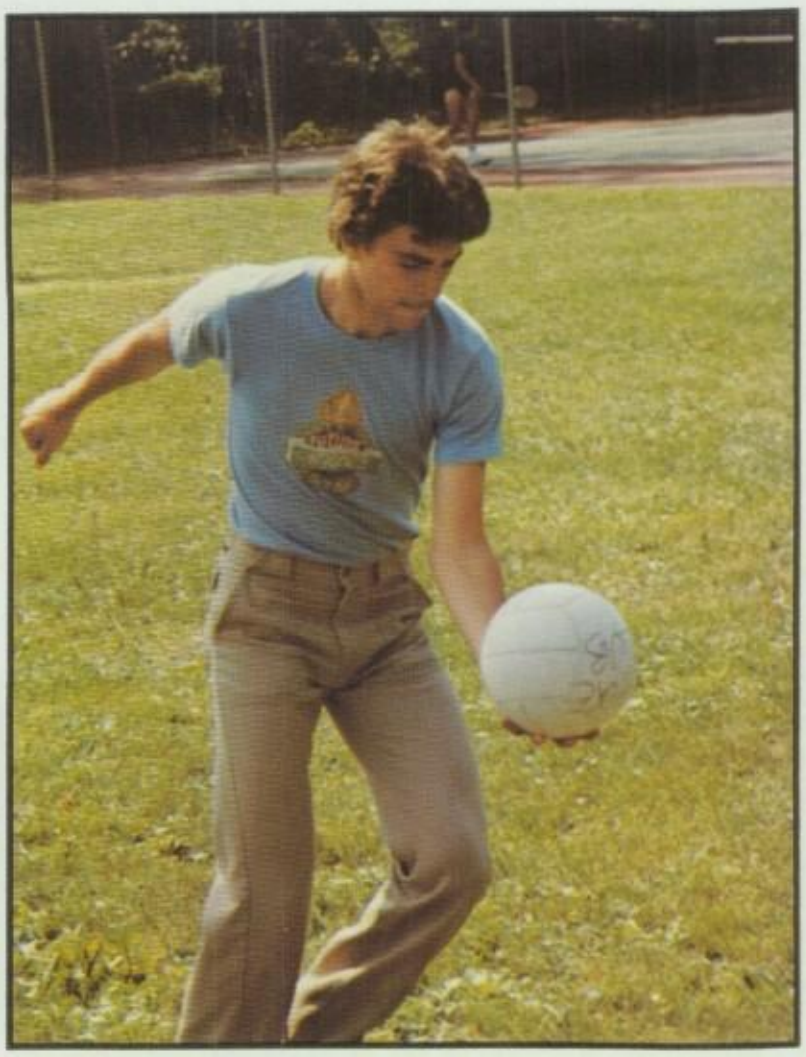


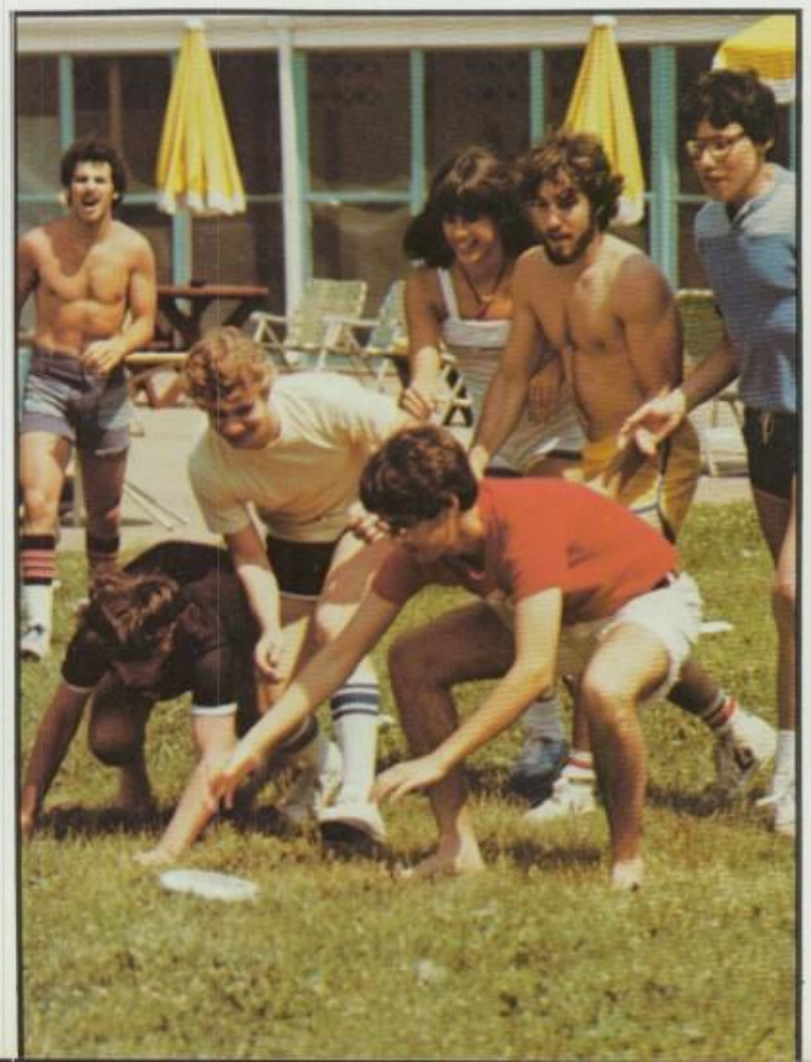


ORDACHE





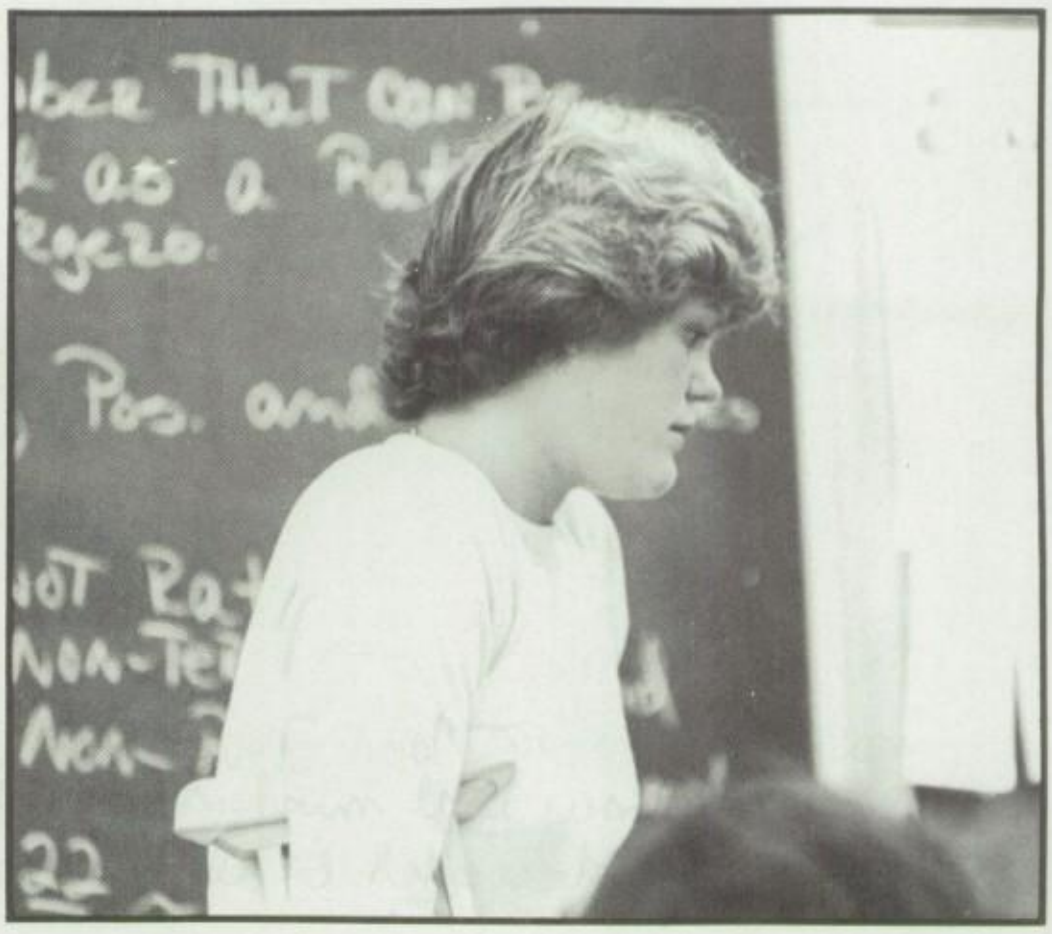


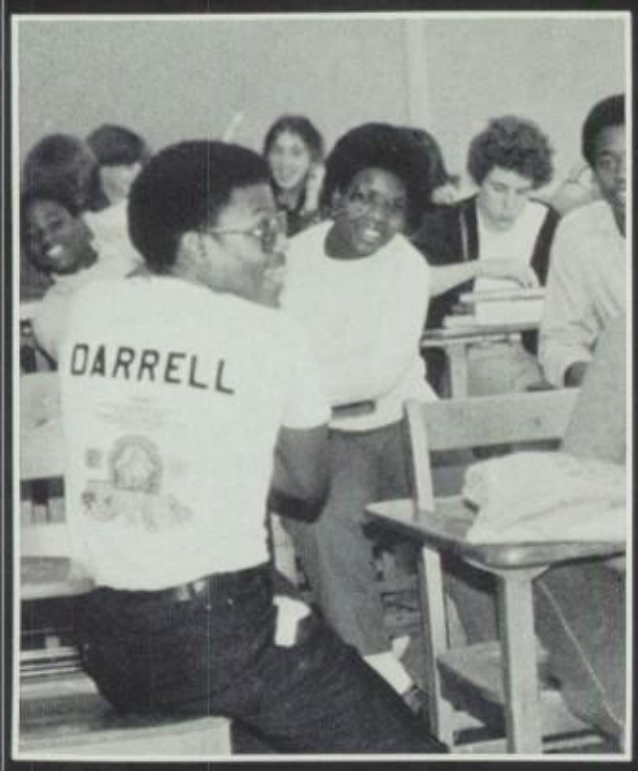


Down the corridor of time I went,
Softly, slowly all around
I saw reflections of the times we spent.
I felt your love, I heard the sound
Of muffled laughter in the breeze.

How frustrating . . . you're not there
Only images . . . only clouds,
Black clouds that rain on my despair.
Time is a veil that shrouds
All the memories we long to seize.

My life long friend, time used to be,
Now my new found foe
Time finds a way to torture me.
As the one I love must go
I hear muffled laughter in the breeze.





DARRELL

Finally, in the near three years of love, we've had, I've seen you transform from a little girl of cute ways and girlish charm to a woman full of love and lady-like dances. What more could I have ask you to do for me except let me be the only person to see that wonderment of change.

All My Love for 3 foreveres ∞∞ Mine.

Dear Love,

I have so many thoughts and feelings from two and one-half years of a love which no two other people could know. I had wanted to write this with a well thought-out idea, but I decided that it would be best to be spontaneous (spelled correctly!) because our relationship is one of ever-present spontaneity (hum?) I can still remember you walking down the SPARC steps in that brown outfit and with one pass by me, you stole my heart. After these past years my heart is still locked in your prison of sweetness. I hope I never get the key! Each day, I think of you or some part of you so that you're always with me. We've shared so much in these past years that not a page, nor a chapter, or a book, or 10 volumes of words could even come near what I want to say. And just a short time ago I saw you graduate with unbelievable style. "What a girl!" I heard someone say. "I wish I knew who "she" was!" he said. Well not only do I know "her", but "she's" mine and "she" loves me. Soon we'll be going away from each other: You, my love, to Princeton and me to Penn. But only distance will be between us, nothing else! How could we, I mean Marc and Ellen ever change or be changed by a few miles of lifeless, ignorant ground. It will only be used to bring us back again.
